REACH Declaration

The REACH regulations (Directive 2006/1907/EC) require all substances and preparations manufactured or imported in the EU in quantities of more than 1 tonne/year to be registered, tested and analyzed for risk.

Considering the terms of the regulations Hanmere manufactures "articles" and is a "downstream-user", thus does not have to register substances nor establish safety data sheets.

Additionally the polymers that Hanmere uses are exempt from registration (Article 2(9)), and only the starting monomers used by the base material manufacturers require registration.

Hanmere continues to check that its suppliers comply with REACH requirements for all the materials and substances we use.

As needed, Hanmere will provide its customers with information should chemicals of "very high concern" occur in its products. The results of a first analysis of supplier information show that no such substances are intentionally used or added.
